To Get Legislations Passed

Mike Masaoka Stresses Intensive Preparation, Good Presentation

CHICAGO — Mike Masaoka, legislative director of the Japanese American Citizens League Anti-Discrimination Committee told a meeting of the national Conference on Inter-group Relations on Nov. 19 that two factors were essential to securing the passage of a national legislation.

They are (1) intensive preparation and (2) intelligent presentation.

Mr. Masaoka, who has been phenomenally successful in having legislations favorable to the Japanese pushed through the Congress, said that frequently, failure of national groups to achieve legislation which they are honestly convinced is beneficial to the nation can be traced to one of these two factors.

Intensive preparation of material is the prime prerequisite for legislative success; it means exhaustive and careful compilation of all facts which bear upon particular legislation, and does not imply that groups should attempt to hide those factors not especially favorable to the bill sought, he said.

Intelligent presentation must take into account two things: (1) that Congressmen are diligent enough to recognize omissions and errors, and (2) that Congressmen being human, are going to recognize both your interests in legislation and in themselves as individuals, Mr. Masaoka said.

ABOUT TOWN

By K.D.

The big news in the Toronto Japanese community this week is the Japanese Canadian Citizens Association's fund drive. The drive is well-organized with Nisei leaders from all sections of the community lending a hand. The national JCCA is backing it strongly too, and with a little cooperation from the public, the quota of $2,750 should be reached.

One hears some criticisms about the JCCA. And the danger is not that the objective would be reached but that the donations may be forthcoming grudgingly. That would be unfortunate since it would endanger the success of future fund drives.

* * *

The criticisms on the whole are constructive, and the JCCA leaders, who are really a sincere and hard-working lot, may do well to heed some of them.

The chief criticism among the Nisei is that the JCCA has not the common touch with the community. This is true, but the fault is actually with the set-up.

In Toronto, there is the Toronto chapter, the Ontario district council and the National JCCA. Downright bureaucratic. Fund is required at each level but mostly for the overhead of the National JCCA.

This kind of situation, however, can't be avoided as long as there is a crisis, and it might be said that we are still at the tail end of several crises—things like the evacuation claims and the federal and provincial restrictions. In other words, the $2,750 is required to carry on the work being done now at the top level.

* * *

There is a responsibility on all of us to back up the present drive. But we should also start thinking about the future. It will not be necessary to maintain the present organizational set-up and any changes which might be made should come from the wish of the community.

Perhaps overhead may be reduced and more attention given to local and immediate needs. Sports and recreation for instance, especially for the teen-age group.

Community picnics and concerts will be appreciated by the Issei group. It might also help them to become better acquainted with their organization.

* * *

Other matters commonly overheard these days: there are too many fund drives going on; can't we do something to keep these drives from getting out of hand? Can't something be done about providing gym facilities for a more inclusive basketball loop?

Niseis Who Can't Speak Japanese— Or English

Have you heard about Niseis who don't speak Japanese or English. Well, there are hundreds of them—in Brazil's Sao Paulo area. Their mother tongue is Spanish.

Journal Paulista is a Japanese paper which is published thrice a week in Sao Paulo. It has a one-page Spanish section.

The editor — whether for Spanish section only or both sections we don't know — is a man named Luiz Yassumi Tanigaki. There is an article, in the copy which reached our hands, by Heitor Kowyama; and a news item about a Nisei Catholic missionary to Japan.

There must be quite a few Okinawans in Brazil because the paper reported that a total of 660,000—pesos, we imagine—had been reached in a recent drive.

So if you ever go to South America and meet some of the 300,000 Japanese there, you might have to speak to them in sign language.

Lucien C. Kurata

First Nisei Lawyer In Ont. Hopes To Learn Japanese

TORONTO—Lucien C. (for Coe) Kurata, 20, became the first person of Japanese ancestry to be admitted to the Ontario Bar. With seven other graduates of Osgoode Hall he was admitted at a ceremony conducted by Mr. Justice McFarland on Nov. 18.

Mr. Kurata attended Pickering College and also graduated from the University of Toronto in metallurgical engineering before going into law.

Mr. Kurata was born in Toronto, where his parents have been living for the past 30 years.

He was married in May, 1947 to the former Mary Frances Whitehurst of Ottawa. Recently—on Nov. 9, 1948—they became parents of a daughter whom they named Mary Elizabeth Ellen.

The young Nisei lawyer is the son of Taka Kurata who is zoologist at the Royal Ontario Museum and has been associated with the University of Toronto for 35 years. The elder Takata is a graduate of the University of Iowa.

Lucien's mother is an American, formerly Elizabeth Stoddard of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

While acknowledging the handicap of not being able to speak Japanese, Lucien nevertheless is anxious to aid in the legal problems of Toronto Japanese and showed interest in the Japanese Canadian Citizens Association. He confided to The New Canadian that he would like to take a crack at learning the Japanese language.

Weekly Commentary by K. O.

War crimes trials at Nuremburg and Tokyo were brave attempts to lay down firm principles of international morality. It looks now as though they are too far ahead of times.

Criticisms of the trials are growing.

Bishop Theophil Worm of Wuerttemberg, Germany, has asked President Truman to stop the executions of Germans convicted by the war crimes courts. Executions have been going on every Friday in Landsberg Prison since Oct. 15.

Judge Radhabinode Pal, one of the tribunals who presided over Tokyo trials differed violently with the other judges. He insisted that there was no satisfactory definition of "aggressive war", that "aggressors" was merely a label applied by conquerors to the conquered.

Justice Pal exonerated Hideki Tojo and 24 others who were sentenced recently, recalling that when Japan once tried to insist on a racial equality clause at a League of Nations meeting, the move was opposed by the British Empire delegation.

New York Daily News warned that U.S. military leaders were already being called "aggressors" by Russia, and that they had better win the next war if they wanted to escape punishment.

Commented Time Magazine: "There were signs of growing uneasiness over war crimes cases that had dragged on for years. Tojo's conviction might be a good place to stop and close the account."

In writing about death in last week's New Canadian, V.O. says: "If we were academic logicians we might coldly state the issue thus: everything that has a beginning must have an end. Before we were born we had no existence, so why should we think there ought to be one after death?

We think he assumes too much. He assumes that we had no existence before we were born. The only thing we're sure of is that we don't remember it if we had. And even assuming as he does that we had no existence before birth, why need death be the end simply because our conception of consciousness seems to stop at that point?

* * *

We have come to the conclusion that charges and counter-charges in connection with the Ontario power shortage are not to be taken seriously. We can't see how Drew can be as guilty as the Star makes him out to be or as innocent as the Globe and Mail insists he is. We think the two newspapers regard the hydro issue as good dirty journalistic fun which the people like reading about. And we think Mr. Howe made himself look a little silly by being dragged into it.

Another thought that occurs to us is that you can't prove anything by a debate; except that the winner is probably a better debater.

HAMILTON ROUNDABOUT

By N.M.

The bustle and preparation preceding the Canada Pageant and the bright splash of vivid color during the performances are now dim echoes of the past with only faint whispers as reminders of that brilliant spectacle.

The pageant, jointly sponsored by the Hamilton Junior Chamber of Commerce and the National Unity Council to promote better understanding of folklore and culture of the various nationalities had over twenty groups represented in presentations of folk dancing on the stage and handicraft in the booths at the Hamilton [illegible] Highlanders Armouries on the Nov. [illegible] to 16.

There is no doubt that Japanese Canadians [illegible] this community both contributed to and gained recognition [illegible] in their initial participation in such a project. Proof of this is evidenced by the fact that a number of girls were requested to perform "odori" in kimonos for several functions following the Pageant. One Nisei ette is at present posing in costume for a local artist to be recorded for posterity on canvas.

The Japanese Canadian stage performance momentarily stopped the show with a kaleidoscopic array of eighteen girls in kimonos in an interpretation of the "sakura ondo." Although the motions were meaningless to onlookers, the sheer color and vividness of the costumes caught their fancy.

The huge stage, bare of backdrops or background necessary to the effective presentation of an "odori", spoiled an otherwise sterling performance of two odoris by Toyo Izumi, Takako, Michiko and Sachiko Hashimoto. Oscar Kawai sang two Japanese folk songs and was accompanied by Katie Oyama on the piano. George Masuda and F. Fukumoto on guitars.

The entrance of the display booth was flanked by traditional cherry blossoms. The articles on display were arranged on tiered shelves and evoked widespread comment and praise. The Japanese Canadian booth attracted the largest crowd throughout the three-day show.

The grand finale on the closing night of the Pageant was staged with a brilliant mass of various national costumes, and Japanese kimono clad girls sprinkled liberally.

While the stage performance and booth display received foremost mention, there was a small army of behind-the-scenes workers who diligently set about the tremendous task of making the presentation possible. Large share of the credit of the success is due Bob Shimoda, who together with Bob Oikawa, headed the committee responsible for making all the arrangements. And not to be excluded are the ladies who were in charge of costuming the girls, those who turned out to set up the displays, and many others who assisted in transportation, volunteers who acted as guides, contributors of articles on display.

The acclaim has died down now and we're left with only the memories . . . . a lot of it pleasant and for those who worked so hard on the project, of a lot of headaches and grief encountered during the strenuous period of organizing the show . . . but Japanese Canadians in Hamilton can well be proud of the Canada Pageant and the part they played in it.

The Story Of Sessue Hayakawa

By LARRY TAJIRI

Sessue Hayakawa would say that the story of his "disappearance," circulated by Louella Parsons was greatly exaggerated.

Mr. Hayakawa, one of the great stars of Hollywood's swaddling days, has been living quietly in Paris all these years while Hollywood columnists have been speculating on his possible fate in Japan.

Hayakawa's was one of the few Japanese names which became known to a generation of movie-going Americans. Michio Ito in the dance, Kuniyoshi and Noguchi in the arts and Dr. Hideyo Noguchi in medicine are among the handful of others who attained national prominence.

The name of Sessue Hayakawa still crops up once in a while in dispatches out of Hollywood, although the film star hasn't been in California for 15 years. He last visited Hollywood back in 1932 when he made "Daughter of the Dragon" at Paramount with Anna May Wong.

Hayakawa was a product of an infant art which had yet to develop a sense of race consciousness. He generally played villains but he did appear in a number of romantic roles opposite some of the great ladies of the silent screen. He is probably the only non-Caucasian actor to achieve such prominence in Hollywood.

The extent of his fame can be measured by the fact that his name is known to a new generation of Americans who have never seen him on the screen.

Back in 1944 when there was talk of American parachutists being dropped on Japan, RKO studios, then producing a film called "First Man Into Tokyo," issued a publicity release which declared that the first American to enter Japan should look up the whereabouts of Sessue Hayakawa. Actually Hayakawa, at that time, was living quietly in Paris, having refused to collaborate with the Nazi film industry.

Hayakawa left the United States after a series of incidents which diminished his usefulness to the motion picture industry. One occurred in the 1920's when he made a motion picture in which he was pictured branding a woman. West Coast Japanese residents, then the objects of one of the periodic Yellow Peril campaigns directed against them, feared that the film would be utilized by the racists in their movements and protested its release. They sought to buy the film from the producers and thus suppress it.

The advent of the talkies finished Hayakawa, as it ended the careers of John Gilbert and many others in Hollywood. The Japanese star went into two-a-day vaudeville, touring the provinces in a one-act play called the "Bandit Prince". He was involved in a scandal, highly publicized in the newspapers, with his leading lady, a Ruth Noble, and he terminated his tour and left for Europe.

In Paris Hayakawa helped organize the new French movie industry, which later was to produce many of the greatest films ever made. He appeared in a number of films, the best-known being "The Battle", a story about a Japanese naval commander who is torn between duty and the love of his beautiful wife. In a later French film version, the picture was made as "Thunder in the East", with Charles Boyer in the Hayakawa role and Merle Oberon as the wife.

Hayakawa's influence on French films diminished as the industry grew but he helped produce a number of other films. In his last picture before the Nazis marched into Paris, he appeared as a Japanese coolie in a story called "Yoshiwara". The world premiere of this film became an occasion for official protests from Tokyo. On orders from Tokyo, the showing of the film was protested by Japanese consular authorities in many countries. This may account for the fact he has never gone back to Japan to live.

Sessue Hayakawa arrived in the United States from Japan early in the 1900's as a schoolboy. He found odd jobs while he went to school. One of his last jobs before he became a star was that of washing dishes in the old Southern Pacific station in Los Angeles. In those days the movies were continually on the lookout for new faces and, since all was pantomine, the fact that an actor could not declaim Shakespeare was of little account.

One of Hayakawa's first starring roles was in a Thomas Ince production called "Pride of Race", which was produced in 1914. In this film he played the role of a renegade Indian brave with all the stilted mannerisms common to the motion pictures of the period. He later appeared in more sophisticated roles, usually for Famous Players-Lasky, one of the ancestors of the present Paramount studio. On the screen Hayakawa played various Oriental types, including a number of pictures with Chinatown backgrounds. Some of these were filmed on location in the alleys between the old red brick buildings of Los Angeles' Chinatown long since cleared away for the city's expanding Civic Center and the new Union railroad depot.

Hayakawa was a symbol of an era in which the night shadows of Chinatown were romantic (Chinatown, my Chinatown, where the lights are low . . . etc.). Today the stories of tong wars and opium dens no longer frighten us. Rather, the Chinatowns and other racial ghettos are recognized matter-of-factly for what they are, the end result of racial segregation in housing.

Hayakawa achieved his fame in a period when the women on the Main Streets of America were humming a song about "The Sheik of Araby" and the Latin charms of Rudolf Valentino were exploited on the screen.

The story from Hollywood last week, via Louella Parsons, was that Humphrey Bogart and Robert Lord, producers of a movie about an occupation GI, titled "Tokyo Joe", have been looking for Hayakawa to play the role of a heavy in the film. Mr. Lord recently returned to Hollywood from Japan and reported that he had been unable to locate Hayakawa there. Miss Parsons suggested there had been a rumor that Hayakawa had gone to Mexico and hinted that an aura of mystery existed in his "disappearance".

Actually Hayakawa is still in Paris where he lived throughout the four years of the Nazi occupation in a small apartment in the Etoile district near the Arc de Triomphe.

Hayakawa told an American visitor in October, 1944 that he had been making pictures in Paris off-and-on since 1923. He said he had his own film company at the time the Nazis occupied Paris. Because of the fact that much of his capitalization was British and American, Hayakawa's company came under the supervision of a Nazi inspector. This stifled the operations of the company.

Some efforts were made by the Nazis to utilize Hayakawa in the propaganda program of the New Order but the Japanese actor would not cooperate.

"Although I am a Japanese in origin, I still consider myself an American," he says. Incidentally, Hayakawa reportedly still owns a home at Great Neck, Long Island and hopes to be able to come back to the United States.

He declined offers from Nazi intermediaries to produce films for the fascists. One French collaborator came to Hayakawa with an offer from the Germans and pointed out the fact that the Japanese star could enjoy the fruits of the occupation if he cooperated.

The French official noted that Hayakawa did not have a car.

"Life can be very nice for those who collaborate with the New Order," he said.

Hayakawa refused the offer, pointing out that his bicycle and the metro (subway) provided ample means of transportation.

"I am an artist," he said. "I am not interested in material things, such as wealth and possessions."

Sessue Hayakawa probably will be amused by the news that Hollywood has been somewhat concerned about his "disappearance."

It is a tribute to Hayakawa's place in the history of the motion picture industry in the United States that he is still newsworthy today, although he has not made a film in Hollywood in 16 years.

長編小說 星は見てゐた

藤澤桓夫

第二回

そのうちに、ある時、八十二は新聞紙上で、この住吉區の學童野球大會があるといふ記事をふと見かけた。出場校の名前が出ていた。おやと思つて、讀んで行くと、隣の學校の名前がどこにも出ていない。

それはちやうど日よう日の新聞だつた。隣の校庭では、日よう日でも熱心な少年たちが集まつてやはり野球をやつていた。

八十二は、退屈でもあつたし、着物の着流しのまま、ぶらりと家を出て、隣の校庭へはいつて行つた。

「君たち、どうして野球大會に出ないの？」

と、彼は少年たちの一人にきいてみた。

「僕たち下手やもん。」

その少年は却つて極り惡さうに答へた。自分たちには出場する資格など到底ないとはじめからきめている風だつた。

「そんなバカな」

と八十二は云つた。

「下手でも出ればよいやないか。」

「出たら一ぺんに負けます」

自分たちは下手だときめている少年の心情が八十二の心を打つた。

「ダメだなあ、そんな氣の弱いことを云つては。君たちだつて少し頑張つて練習すれば、もつと〳〵上手になれるのに。」

「ほんとうになれますか」

とまた別の少年が少し眼を輝かせてきいた。

「なれるとも！」

と八十二は云つた。

「うむ、さうだ。君たちが、もつと上手になるやうに、今日は一つ僕が君たちにノックをしてあげよう」

シート・ノックなどしてもらつた事のない少年たちは驚きと喜びを同時に現はした。

八十二が隣の學校の少年たちに野球の手ほどきをするやうになつたのはそんなわけからだつた。そして間もなく、彼はこの誰から賴まれたわけでもないこのおせつかいな發汗作業に當の少年たちよりも、むしろ自分が夢中になつてしまつた。野球と云ふプレイそのものも充分に樂しかつた。しばらく忘れてゐたその樂しさが身內に猛然とよみがへつて來た。彼のちよつとした注意で、勘のよい少年たちが眼に見えて上達を示すのも嬉しかつた。それに何よりも、無邪氣な少年たちと一しよになつて遊ぶのが樂しかつた。もとから彼は子供が大好きなのだ。その好きな子供がみんな自分になついて來る。自分の云ひなり通りになる。これが嬉しくない事はなかつた。

彼は、少年たちの一人一人のプレイに、その長所と短所とを見て、長所をのばし、短所を直してやらうと努力した。

例へば、彼は腕から先きだけの力でボールを投げてゐる投手の西川少年に、投球は全身の力を集め利用して肩から投げ下すものだと云ふことをわかりやすく理解させようと努めた。

日本への「エーアレター」の事など

カナダでは去る七月一日から手紙の配達を早める爲に普通の四仙スタンプをはつた一オンス迄の手紙でも飛行便のきく所だつたら空輸して居る其の事は當時本紙で發表しておいたが、まだ知らない人があるやうなので、此の事を紙上重ねてお知らせすると共に日本人に關係ありと思はれるカナダの郵便料金の事柄を參考までに左に摘記する

▲同一郵便局區内の手紙……一オンス迄三仙、一オンス増す毎に一仙づゝ

▲カナダ内の他局へ廻る手紙……一オンス迄四仙、一オンス増す毎に二仙づゝ

（この場合一オンス迄の手紙で四仙のスタンプでも飛行便のきく所はエアーメール並みに取扱ふ。但し一オンスを超える場合には此の特典はない）

MACKENZIE KING RETIRES

In stepping down from his high office, Mr. Mackenzie King receives the plaudits of his grateful country and other countries as well, the plaudits are well-earned.

Although not dynamic nor outstanding in the way we like to picture great leaders, Mr. King nevertheless possessed a personality and talents peculiarly suited to performing the complex task of guiding Canada through a momentous period in her history.

He has been called a great parliamentarian, which he undoubtedly was. But his talents included the ability to reach a compromise, which was sometimes a weakness.

We remember well his decision to go along with Mr. Ian Mackenzie and the British Columbia M.P.'s who wanted to "repatriate" thousand of Japanese Canadians.

We think the mass evacuation was conceived and executed with the minimum of regard for human values, and left a record which bears favorable comparison only with the ruthless control methods of authoritarian countries.

We are dissatisfied with the half-measure evacuation claims plan which falls short of a just and practicable attempt to recompense Japanese Canadians for their losses.

All this is water under the bridge, as far as our relations with the former Prime Minister is concerned. They are also but few of the blemishes in an essentially worthy record of service.

The unfurnished business of the evacuation must be taken up with the new Government leader and his cabinet.

But now, we join the ranks of those who offer congratulations to Mr. King for a long and faithful stewardship over Canadian affairs.

Nisei Photographer

We have a letter from Mr. K. D. Nishio who says it's downright libellous to be described in the "Merry-go-round" column as a spare-time photographer.

We hope to repair the damage by giving some information here about Mr. Nishio.

Mr. Nishio specializes in home-portraiture, but he also does some flash work. He has taken a few pictures for the JCCA which have appeared in recent issues of The New Canadian.

And most important of all, he is not a spare-time photographer, he is devoting full time to his business which is photography.

Identity Sought

A well-taken criticism of the failure of the JCCA to publish financial statements is contained in a provocative letter from "A disgusted JCCA member" in Toronto.

We wish to publish the letter but must be convinced of the genuineness of the letter by being informed of the writer's identy.

We will respect his wish and that of any writer to remain anonymous in the letters column, but we cannot undertake to publish any letter bearing no signature.

Bogart Seeks Sessue Hayakawa

SAN FRANCISCO — Humphrey Bogart is looking for a one-time Hollywood actor Sessue Hayakawa to take a "heavy" role in "Tokyo Joe," a picture of an occupation soldier in Japan, according to Louella Parsons in her recent column.

She was asked by Bogart to help him find the Japanese actor when Robert Lord, his partner and producer, returned from Japan where he was unsuccessful in locating the old-timer.

The Nichi Bei Time sent word to the Hollywood columnist that Hayawaka was listed in the 1945 Paris telephone book.

Hayakawa appeared opposite Anna May Wong in the "Daughter of the Dragon."

Former Principal Visits Toronto

TORONTO — T. Sato, former principal of the Alexander St. Japanese Language School in Vancouver arrived in Toronto last week with his wife on business concerning the school property and the Education association.

Funds of the educational association, it is reported, will be disposed of as follows: $1500 for Japan relief, and $2000 for the JCCA civil rights defence fund.

The Japanese school association decided not to offer for sale the school building in Vancouver at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Sato, who are stopping at the Ford Hotel are expected to leave for Alberta on Monday, Nov. 22.

No Charge for Teeth Protection

Toronto mothers can take advantage of a free service which will reduce their children's tooth decay 40 to 60 per cent.

The city's health department has passed out free supplies of sodium fluoride to 350 dentists to apply to the teeth of children at three, seven, 10 and 13, the MacLean's Magazine reported recently.

The painting of the teeth with this solution takes one hour and 15 minutes (in four sittings) and is expected to protect the teeth for three years.

Roy Oda, Lanky Inouye Are First Niseis in Royal Canadian Navy

TORONTO — Roy Oda, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Y. Oda of 170 Oakmount Road, Toronto, has enlisted in the Royal Canadian Navy and is now stationed in Esquimalt, B.C.

Roy had his application in for some time before he was inducted. He left for the West Coast station on October 7th.

After three months' basic training, he expects to be transferred to Halifax for further training.

He is in the radio section.

His father, Mr. Arthur Oda, is a salesman who makes periodic cross-country trips.

Report has been received that "Lanky" Inouye of Chatham has also enlisted in the Navy.

It is believed the two are the first Niseis to join the Royal Canadian Navy.

Small Dog Wins Ten Prizes

A tiny two-and-one-half-pound dog owned by George Miyake of R.R. No. 1, Winnipeg, won 10 prizes in the annual all breed championship dog show held at Carpiquet Barracks recently, according to a Winnipeg correspondent.

The dog is a nine-month-old, black and cream male Mexican Chihuahua.

The Crime of Being Born

By JACK SCOTT
The Vancouver Sun
October 30, 1948

A stranger to these parts, sitting yesterday morning in the murky Police Court of our fair city, might have wondered if Justice were blindly weighing her scales against a young man for the crime of being born.

It would seem to this stranger that the parents of the young man were found guilty of bringing a son into the world whose name was not Flanagan or McSpaden or Green or Scott, whose skin was not the hallowed color of white, whose eyes were not just as round as the law would like them.

Nobody mentioned the name of the young man's parents, but it was they who were guilty. For this young man had nothing to do with the name he was given or the color of his skin or the slant of his eyes or the accident of birth that makes him a special person in the eyes of so-called justice.

He was a Japanese. And because he was a Japanese and for no other reason he left that dismal court room to serve a year's prison sentence with hard labor.

There was no great outcry of protest when this boy left the court room. The magistrate gave no indication that this was a case with deep roots of intolerance and bigotry. Indeed, there had been no counsel for the boy. He had conducted his own case in a pathetic and ludicrous manner. It was all over in five minutes. An open and shut case. Clearly defined by the law.

Yet in this orderly and routine judgment it was impossible not to feel that other and deeper laws were being raped: the justice of equality and human decency and brotherhood. For if the young man had been white and with oval eyes and a familiar name he would never have been in that court or in a prison today.

Akihide Otsuji ... a specimen and ... a disgrace to all those ... Canadians of Japanese ancestry. He had his brushes with the law before. He ... The ... he faced yesterday had sent him to jail before.

But the case before the police magistrate was not ... in any criminal category. It was simply this Akihide Otsuji had entered the British Columbia coastal area, banned to Japanese-Canadians, without securing a permit from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

The evidence against him was simply that he was "a person of the Japanese race." Answering that question, in the affirmative sent Akihide to jail. Nothing else.

We here, knowing the background of this indecent denial of rights to our citizens, this cruel compromise of freedom in a "free" country, could accept this verdict with a shrug and sigh. It is an old story now.

And yet I think that if any of us had read a news report of, say, a Negro being sent to jail for crossing the border from South Carolina to North Carolina we would be decently outraged.

Certainly the order-in-council which still keeps legal citizens from moving at will in the land of their birth is every bit as much rank discrimination and hate-breeding as any of those unwritten laws of America's deep south.

We here talk glibly of "iron curtains" as a phrase suggesting a breach of democracy, yet we have hung our own north and south across Canada for a helpless minority.

In the course of his trial Akihide Otsuji, asked for an explanation of his breach of these regulations made a mumbling reply.

"This is my home town," he said. "After all, the war's been over for a long time. I wanted to get a job."

It was a foolish remark. The law is the law, and Akihide had good reason to know this particular law. He was no courageous representative of a racial group making a test case. He simply went recklessly against the regulations. The ... had no choice but to pick him up. The magistrate had no choice but to sentence him.

And yet when I left the courtroom, I found myself remembering the boy's words. He had a right to feel that way as you or I or any native son would have the right. And these regulations, born of wartime, have not been continued because of anything to do with war. They have been continued as political cowardice and convenience.

Other Japanese ... from their homes as ... are still sealed off from the so-called ... area. Very few of them will return if and when our legislators regain their sense of decency. Until ... they are ... exactly the ... kind of Nazism that the laws in Germany expressed.

Akihide Otsuji proved nothing. If anything he made it even tougher for others of his race. But the onus is not on Akihide or on any other Japanese. It is on us.

東條英機以下二十四名の戰犯者に對し判決が下されたが、幾日月を費し一千万弗を費消した東京裁判の結果としてこのニユースは大してクライマックスでもなかつた。ただその裁判で戰犯及び國際信義の解說にあたつて新しい理由が見出されたといふ事だけが目立つだけである。それのみならず、この裁判は日本國民ばかりでなく、戰勝國の人々にも大した感動を與へなかつた。クリスチアン・サイエンス紙のワーカー記者は、東條及びその一派が樞軸と關係がないとする論告について、軍部と樞軸との近しい關係を熟知しるる日本人を不思議がらしてゐると報じてゐる。

□

更にワーカー記者は日本の古言を引用して「勝てば官軍、負ければ賊」といふ。まけた日本の指導者とその裁判には、ずつと以前から興味を失つてゐる一般日本國民はそう考へのであるとも報じてゐる。これを連合國側の立場から見ると東條及びその一連を犯罪人らしく取扱ふに失敗した東京裁判に特に失意を抱いて居り、東條の運命を甘受ける諦觀ぶりには多少の好感さへ持たれるにいたつたほどである。東條は判決が下されてから次の如く語つた。

「裁判に對する私の意見かね―それは戰勝國の裁判だと答へるよ。それ以外の何物でもないからね」

戰犯裁判は、二度と戰爭の起らぬ世界を豫期したものだが現在の國際據理にはまたもや戰雲がたなびいてゐる。

Clippings from Post-War Tokyo

Japanese imagination travels far and wide in finding names for Tokyo restaurants, cafes and cabarets. Take, for instance, a quick gander at the Ginza night spots and eateries.

There's the Florida dance-hall almost across the street from Radio Tokyo and within a stone's throw from Shimbashi Station. It's a new version of the old Florida which used to be out Tameika way.

Just back of Tokyo Station, the Sante Fe Dance Hall blows in a fresh breeze of the American southwest. Casa Blanca over in Gotanda must be inspired by that North African port but few of the Japanese patrons who dance amid the pseudo-Morocean atmosphere probably realize it.

Right in mid-town we've seen two spots which pay tribute to that great metropolis on the U.S. Atlantic seaboard. They call themselves Manhattan and the New Yorker.

Just behind the Ginza Mitsukoshi is a restaurant-bar that is named after Pasadena. Of course, pre-war Ginza remembers the fame of the old "Alaska" which served all types of food for the class trade.

* * *

Tokyo Times' wit and raconteur Hachiro Sato is credited with the remark that fathers are worried about the positions their offspring play on the neighborhood sandlot or school team.

It was not long ago that fond parents aspired to see their young holding down the pitcher's mound or a catcher at second best.

But now it seems family finances enter into the picture. Father frowns upon sons playing in such positions.

The pitcher gets too hungry while to be catcher it costs too much for equipment such as mask, body protector and mitt.

Seems like most Japanese sons will have to play the out field and leave the batteries to the sons of the new-rich.

A recent news item from Munich in war-ravaged Germany revealed that any woman up to 55 years of age is acceptable for marriage providing she has an apartment.

This is strikingly true also in war-ravaged Japan. Eligible swains looking about for a wife usually take into consideration the fact that the potential lifemate can provide shelter.

One young Japanese, just returned from a long sojourn abroad, made his choice on the fact that the girl could provide two rooms. She won out over a girl with a one-room apartment and another who lived with her family in a plush house in the Tokyo suburb.

These days, men considering matrimony even overlook the handicaps of living with a mother-in-law if the girl has a house.

The outmoded idea that a Japanase girl who married left the family went out with the housing shortage. Nowadays fathers with marriageable daughters think twice before encouraging matrimony. In some cases, it does not relieve the housing problem, rather the family acquires a permanent boarder. — From the Nippon Times.

市協トロント・チャプター一世部の總會が十一月廿七日(土)午後七時半からオール・ネーションス教會に於て開かれ、來年度のプログラム決定と委員の選擧が行はれる。それで一世部では去る廿一日本年度終末の委員會を開いて過去一ケ年間をまとめた仕事と會計報告をなし委員會より總會に提出すべき議案として△日本難民救濟△圖書部管理△娛樂部設置△高齡者優遇△委員數增加等々を決定した。委員選擧は昨年通り會員一般投票によることに、推薦された委員候補者八十四名(リストと共に投票用紙を各會員に送附した。總會に出席できない者は廿七日午後五時までに龜岡幹事まで送附するか又は總會會場まで屆けられるやうにと希望されて居り、會員の資格は廣義に解して昨年度會員にしてまだ本年度の會費を拂つてない者も新しく入つて來た者もふくめて總て出席方が切望されている。(もし投票用紙を受取りもれの者があつたら龜岡氏まで知らせて頂きたい)廿一日の委員會には[illegible]の委員廿六名が出席し記念寫眞をとり委員自辨で晩餐を共にした

◆

市協の仕事は出來るだけ二世に委せよと云ふのは大方の考へであり喜ばしい事ではあるが、まだ〳〵「一世部」といふようなものがあつて、して行かねばならない仕事が多いので總ての人々が援助する必要がある。それは總會に行つて報告をきゝ議案を討議すれば判ることであるのでタイムの都合のつく人は萬障を排して出席し自己の信頼する人を委員に選び彼等に助力すべきである。委員の人々はタイム其他を犠牲にして日けい人のために盡して居るのであり在來の幹事や日本からの名士と接觸できるからといふような「メイー」とは違つた眞に名聲ある仕事をしているのである。

(コールデール)中山牧師が牧するアルバタ日本人聖公會は創立以來三ケ年にして信徒增加(受洗者百八十四名と受按者四十五名があつた)禮拜堂建築落成による健實なる發展を來たが、時代の變遷にともない同胞多數がカナダ市民として歸化せる現狀にかんがみ、善きカナダ人となるにはキリストを信ずる者の使命の重きを感じつゝ十一月十四日當地會堂に於て信徒總會を開催した。出席者はテーバー、バーンウエル、クランフオード、コールデール、レイモンド、マグラス等をはじめ遠くバクスオールからも參集、定刻前に堂にみちる盛況で會は夕の禮拜から始まり牧師を議長として教務、會計、各部[illegible]全部[illegible]後、[illegible]如く新役員を選擧した

美點は殘せ

(トロント發)既報、元關西學院大學總長ベーツ博士の去廿日夜の日本語講演には多數の來聽者があつたが、在日四十二年の老博士は、明治時代に日本がデモクラチックな方向へ進んで居たのが軍部の暴虐で指導者を次々暗殺して今日の現狀を招いた次第から日本の文化は上下のタテのそれであつたのに比しデモクラシー國の文明は平面的で平等性を持つものであることを指摘し此平等性の中にいま日本人は戰爭から受けた困難を克服して民主的な生活を建て直すことが出來ると信ずると述べ、日本人の持つ清潔、禮儀、静粛、自然美と美術を愛する心など、色々の美點長所はカナダに居ても助長し持續けて行くのが此國に貢獻する所以だと強調した

辻師の講演會

トロント佛教會の辻關教師は過去二ケ月間にわたり米國山東部佛青聯盟の招聘により米國東部各主要都市で日白人間に連續的布教講演をしてゐるが十二月初旬に歸來の豫定で十二月十二日(日)午後二時からトロント佛教會堂に於て、米國に於ける佛教と日本人の現狀に關する報告講演會を開催する事になつてをり信徒並に一般の來會が歡迎されてゐる。尚佛教會では十二月十一日午後七時半よりバサアスト街ホール(三〇〇〇)で本年度終りの映畫の夕を催すが出し物は時事ニュース、野崎小唄(杉方辯士解説)である

日系加奈陀市民協會の存在に關する一考察(下)

アルバタ州 青木定義

實に解決を要する問題は日系市民協會は將來

(一)特殊的團體として發達せしむべきか

或は

(二)一般的加奈陀市民社會への融和渾成を目標として指導すべきか

の問題に就いてである

本問題解決のカギは實に人格の本質中に伏在することに注意せねばならぬ

由來人格は一面普遍性を具ふると共に他面特殊性を有することをその本質とする。換言すれば一面平等性を具ふると共に他面差別性を有することをその本質とする

普遍的にして特殊的、特殊的にして普へん的或は平等的にして差別的、差別的にして平等的、一見不可思議なるが如くして、而も不可思議ならざる統一的實在、是、人格の人格たる所以であり其の本質である

右人格の本質を標準として前掲二項の問題を相照應せしむる時、(一)は人格の特殊性乃至差別性に相當し、(二)は人格の普へん性乃至平等性に相當する

日系加奈陀市民協會が人類と共に又加奈陀と共に人格實現を理想とし 生命と するかぎ

(一)忠良なる加奈陀市民としての本分の完遂を期して

(二)日系人互に相響しめ、相協力すること

の極めて自然にして且健全なる人格實現の發展過程であらねばならぬ

されば前掲の問題に對しては(一)に偏せず又(二)に傾かず、相互の人格的本質性を併せ擁して以て綜合統一の第三方針を採り

「一、加奈陀市民としての本分の完遂に依り加奈陀人の社會中への融和渾成を實證すると共に(人格の普遍性乃至平等性)

(二)右實證徹底の爲に日系人相互に相響しめ、相導き相協力すべき自發的機關の發展を期すべきである(人格の特殊性乃至差別性)

と爲すことが最も自然にして且つ最も望ましき歸結である

右の如くして本問題は最も根本的に且最も合理的に解決せらるゝものと信ずる

○

最後に日系加奈陀市民協會の組織形態に就き一言を加へて置く

日系加奈陀市民協會が、人格と共に又加奈陀と共に飽くまでも基本的人權乃至人格實現の理想を奉して立ち、デモクラシーの原則を堅持して統合せる團体であるとするならば、それは當然個人乃至各組織團体の特異性を認むることを條件として全体としての協力的組織を實現すべきことを本旨とせねばならぬ。從つて其の最も自然にして且つ最も合理的なる組織形態は、中央集權的統一機關に非ずして、聯絡團体的統合機關としての組織形態である。是實に日けい加奈陀市民協會本來の面目であらねばならぬ

苟も眞に同胞の前途を憂ふる良心と近代文明の意義に對する徹底的知見と、人道的戰士としての高邁なる人格的氣魄を所有する程の人々には、右は餘りにも當然且公正なる主張として首肯せらるゝであらう。

Hockey Winds Blow Over Niseiville

Hamilton "Rec" News & Comments

Here are some belated baseball ... Hats off to Jimmy Kondo ... quiet unobtrusive efforts, ... playing and sportsmanship on ... won for him the Kaws... Sportsmanship Trophy. The "Rec" and the Baseball League are ... to Mr. Kawamoto for his generosity and his deep interest in the League. May there be more ...

Wally Fukumoto walloped his way to win the "Rec" batting championship trophy. The Cards, managed by Roy Yamamura and captained by Aki Saisho, fought their way through a nip and tuck battle to win the Annual Challenge Trophy.

Bowling League

The Annual Bowling League Dance will be held on Nov. 27 at the Casa Romana. According to grapevine news, many Torontonians and other out-of-towners are contemplating a visit to Hamilton.

Support for JCCA

In spite of the fact that Hamilton has one of the largest group of Niseis, we are the only Japanese Canadian community without an organization connected with the JCCA. Varied opinions have been expressed with respect to setting up a JCCA unit here. Experience has shown that it would not be feasible for the "Rec" or any other club to participate individually in the JCCA program.

But the fact remains that Hamiltonians need to support JCCA in all their projects and add their support to the concerted efforts of the Niseis across Canada.

NISEI FELLOWSHIP HOLDS MUSICALE

WINNIPEG. — The Nisei Christian Fellowship will hold a tea on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 28 at 4:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Steinmann, 213 Home St.

There will be a guest speaker and special musical numbers. All Niseis are cordially invited.

Nisei Shuttle Teams Ready For Action

TORONTO — Both "A" and "B" sections of the Interchurch Badminton League will get under way on the week of Nov. 22.

"A" captain Ken Fukusaka and "B" captain Tats Harada of the Church of All Nations entries are busy lining up their respective teams with an eye on the championship.

Although losing Tanaka and Matsui to the T. & D. League, captain Fukusaka still has a strong team centred around Junji Ikeno and himself and a group of revitalized veterans. Tom Iwasaki and Mi Akiyama are the second team and Luke Tanabe and Matt Matsui are tentatively in the third spot.

Teiko Kishimoto and Fumi Miike have been lost from last year's championship team, but with Kay Ogaki, Dot Matsumoto and Amy Kitamura back and with the addition of J. Takada, Sue Iwasaki and Sumi Ota and with plenty of reserves in the "B" team, the picture looks good.

The first test of the season will be against St. Clement's who were runner-up to the Christ's in last year's "A" title fight.

Harada had a wealth of material from which to select this team. In the men's department, he has Tucker Morito, Scotty Amemori, Jimmy Kumagai, Mas Yatabe, Tosh Bando, Soe Tsukamoto, Oscar Hatashita, Roy Shin, George Fukusaka, and himself.

Y. Nishimura, Mits and Miz Shintani, Miyo Hirota, Lyn Tsuji, Toki Yonemitsu and Ruby Morita are the girls.

The team will stack-up against the tough Trinity United who put up a terrific battle in last season's playoffs.

TORONTO.— Further tryouts for the midget hockey entry in the THL will be held at Varsity on Friday, Nov. 26, from 8 a.m. Nov. 26 is a school holiday.

Players under 17 as of Nov. 1, this year, are asked to be on hand.

Kondo Hits 892 To Set New Triple Mark

HAMILTON — Favorites, Solley's Men's Shop, took sole possession of first place with 25 points as they blanked Sobel's Clothes 4-0 on Nov. 20. Solley's captain Tom Kondo led his gang with 691-251.

Mits Sonoda's Star-Lite Lunch held second position with 23 points as they split 2-2 with St. Regis Barber Shop.

For Star-Lite Lunch, George Funamoto was best with 655-263. Anchorman Tad Kondo of St. Regis rolled a terrific 892-302-333-257 setting a new high triple mark.

Luck Inn Chop Suey decisioned Lucky Strikes 3-1. Koji Goto was best for Luck Inn with 642-251. Rockets tied with Luck Inn for third place decisioning Pacific Restaurant 3-1. Both teams have 21. Kay Nakano showed the way for Rockets with 617-307, her 307 being the new high-single record for girls.

Shearer and Finance and Curly's Hat Shop split 2-2. Aces decissioned Wildcats 3-1 with Swanee Inouye leading the Aces with 639-252.

Top Hat Restaurant blanked cellar-dwelling Strand Cycle Shop 4-0.

Solley's Pick-Up Easy Points

HAMILTON - Star-Lite Lunch managed to stay on top in Hamilton Bowling League, defeating Curly's Hat Shop 3-1 in the Nov. 13 schedule.

Mits Sonoda was best for the winners with 684-262 while Jim Kawai rolled 697 and Sam Kondo 683 for the losers.

Solly's Men's Shop caught up with the leaders tying them with 21 points each when they won an easy four points from Wildcats who defaulted by failure of some of their bowlers to turn up.

Alf's Top Hat Restaurant, formerly Zen Tanaka's Hostiles, dumped the contending Luck Inn crew 4-0. Sobel's Clothes Ltd. blanked Strand Cycle Shop 4-0. Jack Kondo's vastly improved Pacific Restaurant crew defeated Aces 4-0 behind the team captain's 712-299.

Shearer and Finance decisioned Rockets 3-1. St. Regis Barbershop narrowly eaked out a 3-1 count over Lucky Strikes. Sid Yaguchi's 695-284 and Kaye Inouye's 692-288 were best for the losing Lucky Strikes.

Remember the Bowling League dance on the 27th.

Over 300 Attend Baseball Dance

TORONTO — Over 300 young Niseis and Niseiettes enjoyed the Sadie Hawkin's Dance sponsored by the Toronto Nisei Baseball and Girls' Softball League at the Hungarian Hall on Nov. 19.

Following the Dogpatch tradition, many a Niseiette escorted their favorite beaus to an enjoyable evening of dancing to Dick Matsumoto's record music.

In addition, there was a half hour jam session staged by hep young musicians who put on a sparkled show. We'll be hearing plenty more about these musicians.

This dance concluded the activities of the Baseball and Softball Leagues for the 1948 season.

Let's start early next year and enjoy a bigger and better season.

Rockets Start Practice Session At Varsity Arena from Two A.M.

TORONTO.—Little groups of Nisei with hockey equipment flung over their shoulders are to be seen these early Saturday mornings waiting for the almost non-existent street cars after a strenuous practice session at the Varsity Arena.

And hockey winds are again blowing as the seven clubs of the Toronto Nisei Hockey League go through their paces before the season starts.

Last year's champions, Rovers, are tangling with TNT in a pre-season game at the Varsity Arena on Thursday, Nov. 25 from 11:15 p.m. The official whistle blower will be Tosh Sakura.

The public is cordially invited to look over the teams.

According to pre-season gossip, St. F.X. will be the most balanced team and, with the most time on the ice, is rated quite high. Manager Tosh Sakura is on the lookout for more recruits, however.

Manager Fred Miyasaki of the Champion Rovers is out to repeat, and in addition to his star performer Yuki Kameoka, has big but fast-skating Fred Kinoshita formerly of St. Catharines for rear guard duty.

Co-managers Mas Nakao and Mits Otsu of Homestead Restaurant predict a first division spot with the largest turnout at the practices.

They have added a couple of players from last year's TNT, and with the three Tanaka brothers back together, the team looks good.

Manager Phil Yatabe of TNT also has a flock of youngsters turning out with veteran Ray Adachi in goal, Aki Kuhara, Ken Adachi and Carl Uchikura may again prove to be the giant-killers that they were last year.

Still to be heard from are Danforth Cleaners, Rockets and Spadina Bowling.

Manager Tucker Uchikura of Danforth will lead his team in an initial practice on Nov. 27 at 1 a.m. Rockets, with Kiyo Tamura and Jon Onodera at the helm, will ice their team from 2 a.m.

By mixing young players with the veterans, Rockets may surprise.

Maw Mori of Spadina, league leader of last season who took a tumble in the playoff, promises it won't happen again and he has promised a "surprise package" to be unveiled later. Players will be advised as to practice time.

The league has secured the use of the ice at Varsity from one to three a.m. on Saturday mornings right through December for the teams to practice.

* * *

Last minute preparations are being made for the pre-season dance to be held this Saturday, Nov. 27, at the St. Michael's Hall.

Mas Yatabe will bring his soothing all-star bands for the evening.

St. F.X. Table Tennis Entries Show Win and a Loss

TORONTO — The second week of table tennis in the T. & D. league brings the score to one win and one loss for both the intermediate teams of the St. F. X. Club entry.

On Nov. 10, the St. F.X. Four Aces lost out to Tri-Val trio 12-9, while the other team lost to Imperial Oil 19-2.

The senior team lost out to Tri-Val 16-5.

On Nov. 17, playing on home grounds, Four Aces trimmed Central Y: 14-7. Sumi Sora won 5 games out of six, Sam Kai won in four and Maw Mori had three wins.

Each player combining with Etch Mayeda won two out of three doubles games.

With Nick Kaji as doubles partner, the team won one doubles game.

On Wednesday, Nov. 24, Roy's team will invade Central Y and Sam's Four Aces will try their their luck against Ryerson Press.
